They were carefully cultivated and every plant bloomed and is now loaded down with berries. Many of them are as large as walnuts. A similar experience is unrecorded in extent of quality and yield.—Lexington Herald.

end of the matter, and will go to the meeting in Chicago Tuesday, where plans will be completed and an organization perfected.

During the day Mr. Vance was in consultation with Col. M. C. Alford, of this city, but the result of the talk both refused to give out. Mr. Vance said it was in the nature of things that the combination would be formed, similar combinations having already been made in other coal producing States. He said that though many difficulties would have to met, in the end he felt confident the Kentucky mines would be a part of the combination.—Lexington Herald.

The Times for the news.

It seems there is no end to the forming of trusts.

The plans for the combination of the American and Continental Tobacco Companies have been completed, and the consolidated company which will absorb the two concerns has been organized. The common stock of the two companies will be retired and bonds will be issued to the holders.

Recently we have had practically no tobacco market because of the trusts. If a grower refuses to sell his tobacco to the local agent of the trust and ships to the cities another agent of the same trust there buys it. But this is just what some people have been voting for, and they should not expect anything else.—Ex.

A Good Law.

If you use profane language within the corporate limits of the town you are liable to be arrested and fined. The Marshal has been instructed to arrest all parties, old and young, heard using profane language. This is a move in the right direction. There is too much profanity on our streets, and especially among the young.—Dover News.

Exterminating Rats With a Snake.

Mr. James H. Stagg has a five-foot black snake at his barn to keep away rats. Though "Uncle Jimmie" is on such intimate terms with his snakeship that it allows him to fondle it, wrap it around his neck and etc., it gave him quite a scare the other evening. In the barn there is a shoot that brings bran from above. The snake had gone to the loft and got into the bin and was unable to get out, and when Mr. Stagg opened the valve of the shoot below the snake and feed-stuff came down together and landed in the tin receptacle that the old man held in his hands. It was so sudden and unexpected that his hair came near lifting his hat off his head. The snake was as badly frightened as the man, and sailed over Mr. Stagg's shoulder and disappeared. The reptile has been about the place for four years and the only drawback to its presence is its love for hen fruit. The other day it swallowed three eggs whole, and then wrapped itself around a post in the buggy shed, and when it squeezed the pillar the eggs were crushed.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

Good Roads Notes.

The subject of good roads is the most important one the people of Kentucky, or of any other state, can consider. Good roads will add immensely to the value of farming property, as it will make the markets easily accessible to farm and garden products, and by increasing the facilities and comfort of life in the country, will lead to large purchases of land.

Kentucky was a pioneer state in the construction of good roads, and some of the turnpikes built fifty and seventy-five years ago are still models of engineering.

Good roads are the best investments the farmer can make. The cost of hauling his products to market can be easily cut half in two by the use of modern roads.

The next Legislature will be called upon to pass a modern road law. In New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and other states the state has an engineer and gives state aid to the construction of important thoroughfares.

Kentucky has some of the finest turnpikes in the world, but President Moore, of the National Good Roads Association, says he hasn't seen a single modern dirt road in the State.

Clay & Woodford, of Bourbon county, sold in New York last week twenty head of fine thoroughbred yearlings for a total of $52,000. Col. E. F. Clay's nine head brought $20,000, and Catesby Woodford's eleven head brought $32,000. Woodford's yearling colt, brother to Blues and Blue Girl, brought $10,000.

A few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, will restore his liver to its normal functions, renew his vitality, improve his digestion and make him feel like a new man. Price, 25 cents. Three young men from out of the neighborhood visited services at the Hardwick's Creek Christian Church Sunday and shortly after leaving the church amused themselves by the firing of their pistols. Justice D. R. Daniel happened to be on the scene and soon wrought a quietness among them, arresting two of them while the other made his escape on his mule's back.

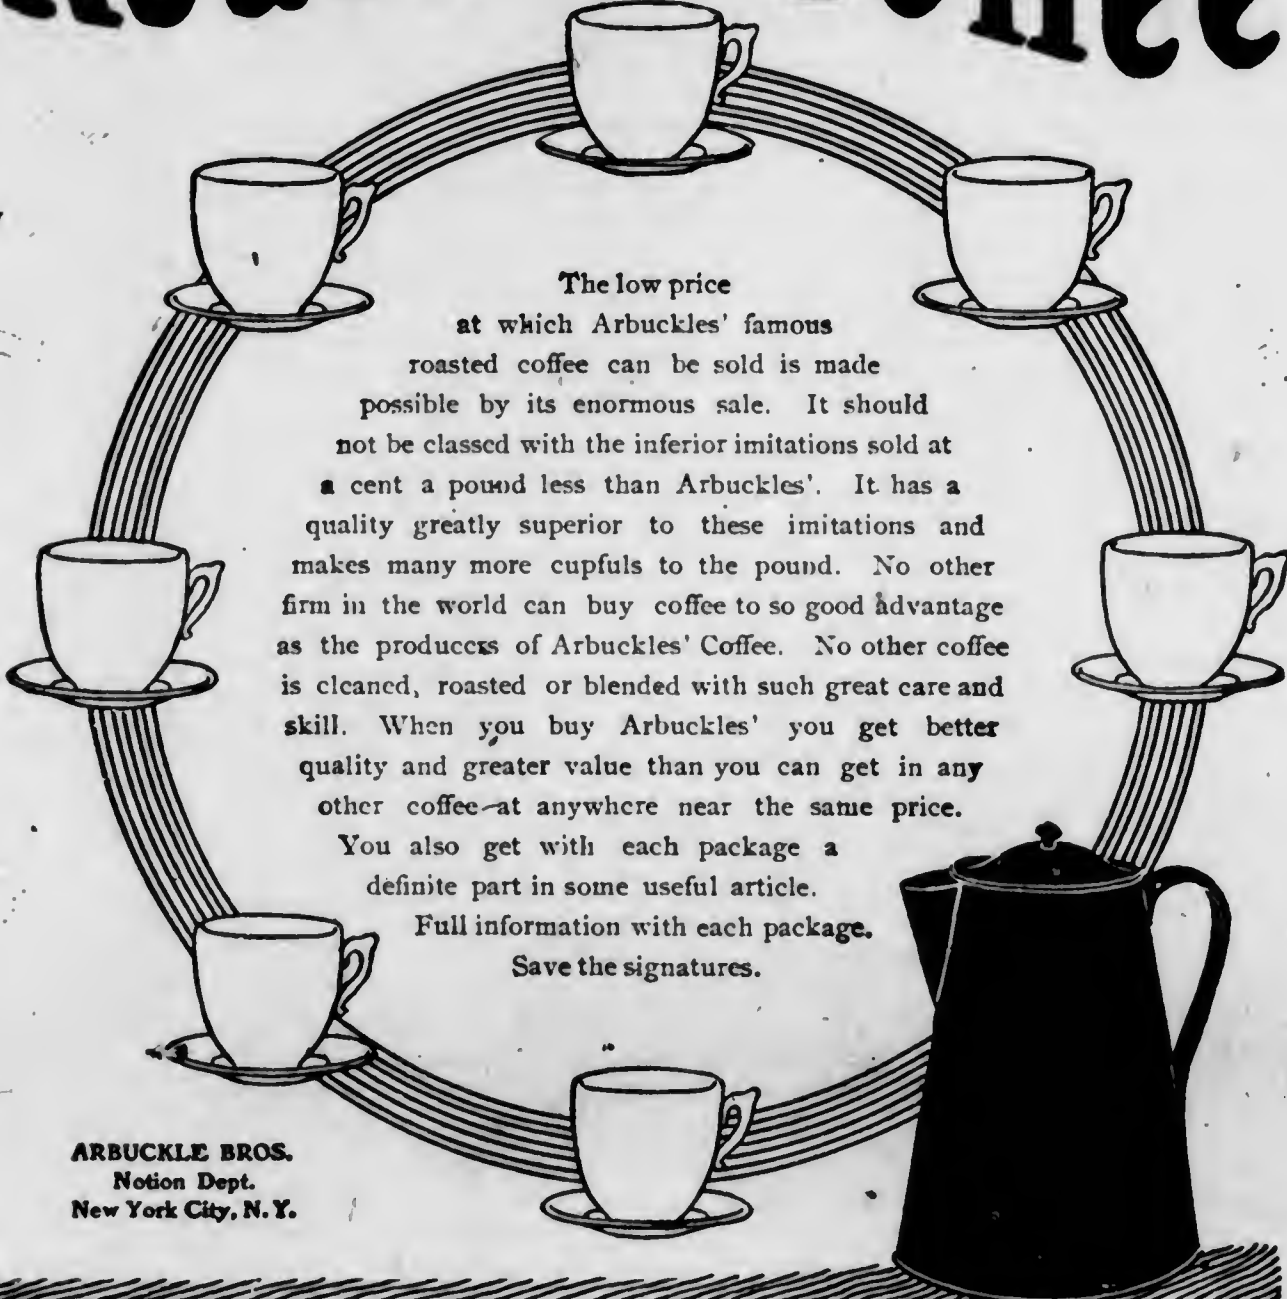

In many instances attacks of cholera morbus terminate fatally before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The safe way is to keep at hand a reliable medicine for use in such cases. For this purpose there is nothing so sure as Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. W. E. Bosworth, of LaFayette, Ala., says: "In June, 1900, I had a serious attack of cholera morbus and one dose of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy gave me relief in fifteen minutes." Arbuckles' famous Roasted Coffee

The low price at which Arbuckles' famous roasted coffee can be sold is made possible by its enormous sale. It should not be classed with the inferior imitations sold at a cent a pound less than Arbuckles'. It has a quality greatly superior to these imitations and makes many more cupfuls to the pound. No other firm in the world can buy coffee to so good advantage as the producers of Arbuckles' Coffee. No other coffee is cleaned, roasted or blended with such great care and skill. When you buy Arbuckles' you get better quality and greater value than you can get in any other coffee—at anywhere near the same price.

You also get with each package a definite part in some useful article. Full information with each package. Save the signatures.

George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could not get relief. He says: "After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by J. W. Dawson & Bro. and Morgan McKinney.
